EDWARD STIVERS, NILES, FOUND DEAD

Apparently a suicide, Edward G. Stivers, 75, member of a pioneer Southern Alameda County family, was found late Monday in his century-old home south of Niles.

Stivers reportedly placed a .22caliber rifle between his knees and shot himself in the head, preliminary reports from the sheriff's substation said.

He was found by his sister, Anna Stivers, 81, and by a friend, Mrs. May Rose, when they returned from a trip to the doctor.

Miss Stivers told officers her brother has been despondent since an operation last year.

Mrs. Biby says, "No matter how scattered our family may be, we never lose touch
The telephone connects us, night or day."

THE BIBYS' TELEPHONE: A MEMBER OF THE FAMILY

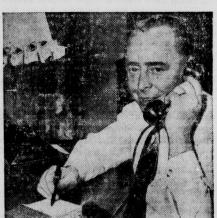

"Low-Cost Family Helper" is how the Edward Bibys describe their telephone

At eleven o'clock one night recently, the telephone rang in the home of Edward E. Biby, owner of a small Los Angeles mattress factory. His son Jim-a senior at USC-was calling."Dad, my jalopy's broken down, and if I don't get my date back to her sorority house before midnight, we're both in the soup." Like other dads, Ed Biby jumped into his car and rode off to the rescue. Later, he said, "That's typical of how the telephone works in our home. It's a real member of the family."

At your service for pennies a call

The Bibys-like other families throughout the West-have found that while their taxes and the cost of most things they buy for their home have gone away up, telephone rates have remained low. So low, that the telephone still carries their ssages for pennies a call. No wonder it's rated a bargain in the Bibys' budget.

YOUR TELEPHONE IS ONE OF TODAY'S BEST BARGAINS

Like other businessmen, Mr. Biby doesn't always find enough hours in the day to finish his work. But his home telephone permits him to make the few necessary evening telephone calls his business requires while he enjoys his family. And Mrs. Biby describes son Jim and daughter Jean as "telephone children," who make good use of the telephone in their school activities. Mr. Biby, speaking of the telephone, said, "There are few things we buy today that do so much—and cost so little."

SUZY

I recently visited Washington High, and relived my high school days. There was one thing missing, though, and that was the ever-present squeak of corduroy trousers that used to fill the halls with sound.

Speaking of high school, amateur surgery performed last week when one girl had her ears pierced by another, brought exclamations of surprise from grownups, wondering what the younger genera-tion is coming to? One mother has no grounds for complaint because I remember a time when she spent a free period cutting her own hair, then went home in tears to repair the damage.

Have you noticed that if an automobile passing another on a three-lane highway turns on its lights when going into the center lane, the car is more easily visible to oncoming motorists? I checked at the Township Sheriff's office and they said there was nothing in the law to cover this situation but that it is a welcome road courtesy.

defrost the refrigerator quickly, turn off the current and put hot-water bottles in the freezing compartment. Refill the bottles as they get cold. This method works better than hot water in the trays, as there is no steam condensation to cause dripping.

The little daughter of a Township doctor, whose many friends call him "Doc," kept asking her mother to sing a song about her daddy. Finally the mother discovered the little girl meant "Hickery Dickery Dock!"

Remember, anyone old enough to offer sound advise should be wise enough not to offer any!

* * * *

Mix a small amount of thin pancake batter and dip day-old bread in it and fry, for a new taste in French toast. After seeing the dresses displayed at the Alvarado celebration, I wonder if our grandchildren will laugh at our fashionable costumes? I may eventually smile at what is my current favorite dress, a "sheath and stole." Greatgrandmother wore stoles, only called them shawls, so hang onto those dresses you have in the back of the closet. They may either return to style, or provide laughs in the distant future. Our ten-year-old, in a moment of helpfulness, did the dishes and broke two drinking glasses in three minutes. I'm glad we didn't live in Nero's time, when he paid $250,-000 for a pair of ordinary glass cups!

You see them each time you go out on the Towship highways, but how long has it been since you stopped at a local produce stand? If you can't grow everything you $5000-2 bedrooms, concrete slab want, as we in Orchard Park with only a small lot have discovered, those grower-to-you stands provide fresh and inexpensive fruits and vegetables.

The youngest member of our family came home from Sunday School and reported his verse for the day was "Cabbages love each other." It took a lot of checking to discover he meant the familiar 'Let us love one another."

So long . . .

THE LESSON OF ESSANAY

Now that men are clean-shaven again, now that the streets of Niles revert again to 1953, we find much satisfaction in the Essanay Days festival, as well as a lesson.

First, we want to mention a few names, to illustrate what we mean by satisfaction: Walt Chrysler, who conceived the idea and who spent so much time and money to carry it out; Al Parks and Les Whitaker, who provided the drive when it was needed: Ted Tully, who successfully tied it all into the movies; Dixon Bristow, who helped at the school; Al Lopez, who sparked the queen contest; George Roeding, who decorated the streets; Ted Econome and Pop White, who staged the street dance. Then there were the DiGiulios, Joe Boliba, ever-reliable Vern Ellsworth, Vern Edgren, Walt Sletten and many more who entered so thoroughly into the spirit of the occasion.

Our point is this: through these united efforts, Niles (1) got a fine highway sign advertising the town, (2) several thousand people came to realize the town exists and is active and progressive, (3) the mer-language Sunday morning. In the chants' committee raised some money for future ac- evening service at 7:30, he will tivities, and (4) a lot of grownups and kids had some speak on "Who Are the Angels?" real fun.

More important: the festival developed pride in Niles among the folks who live there. It gave us a service at the Assembly Friday sense of friendliness, of happiness in being able to evening, June 12, at 7:30, and also help one another. It showed above all what a united in the Sunday School session on effort can produce, because the Essanay Days could Sunday morning at 9:45, according officiate in the 11 o'clock service second-baseman for a championnever have been staged by one man, or even one group.

If all this is granted, why must we stop? There are big jobs to be done in Niles-in the fields of townindustry relations, commercial development, plan-Newark Bible School ning, perhaps even of city-hood or a bridge over Alameda Creek.

Applying the same principles that worked successfully for Essanay Day, these larger problems can be tackled and whipped. Let's get after it!

VOTE - AND VOTE 'YES'!

Next Tuesday voters in Niles have a chance to endorse progress in the form of bonds and state aid Newark Presbyterian Church, with for a new $400,000 grammar school. The school is the closing exercises on June 26 planned for the Canyon Heights-Ellsworth Orchard of the Newark Assembly of God area, and would relieve the heavy burden 700-plus Church. pupils impose on the single elementary school on Second Street.

The district seeks permission to sell $69,000 in The district seeks permission to sell $69,000 in June 13, at 2 p.m., passing down bonds to qualify for five times that amount in State Thornton Avenue from Birch Road aid. The bargain is a good one. It would cost the to the bank and back to the Presaverage homeowner eight or ten dollars a year. But byterian Church where various it would put Niles on the road to an adequate school

School bonds need a two-thirds majority to pass. That means that if as many as 200 people should vote "no," in a normally-light vote, the program could be defeated. This is a plea for every registered voter who is a friend of education, who carries at heart the welfare of children and the future of our sabel Vargas was chairman of town, to visit the polls next Tuesday and to cast a the supper, assisted by Mrs. Ju-"yes" vote for both bonds and State aid.

DOUBLE CROSSING

We can't set up as experts on Bay crossings, but Little Rose Junior Institute, we use them now and then, and it seems to us that Y.L.I., held its first meeting June the South Crossing makes sense. First let's kick out 5 at Parish Hall in Mission San arguments raised by those who have a big stake in downtown Oakland real estate. They wanted a secdowntown Oakland real estate. They wanted a second bridge parallel to the overcrowded Bay span, ated: Marlene Andrade, Virginia and Lynn to keep downtown values high at the expense of the Nunes. motoring public.

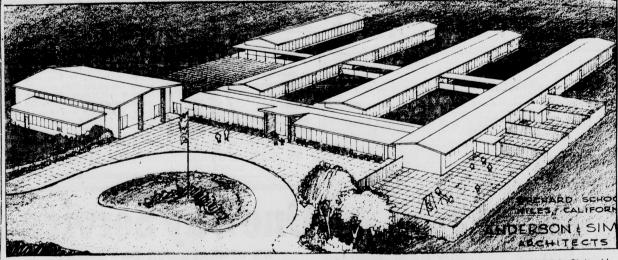

They based their battle—in the open, anywayon an Army-Navy survey which is supposed to predict that only 18 per cent of the present Bay Bridge traffic would use a south crossing.

To those who live in Southern Alameda County, such a prediction packs little authority. Tens of thousands of commuters are living now in San Leandro, San Lorenzo, Hayward, Castro Valley, and even in Washington Township. The Eastshore Freeway, whose latest link already is crowded by their cars, can testify to that. In the five years before the offerings and expressions of sym-South Crossing can be built, hundreds of thousands pathy in the recent illness will be here to use it.

A south crossing will have the effect, too, of dispersing approach traffic, both at Bay Farm Island on the east side, and at Army Street in San Francisco. Much of the traffic jam comes from pileups of cars on the existing approaches. This would be intensified, not eased, by a parallel span.

We say, let opponents of the South Crossing remember that these alternatives have been studied for seven years, that both San Francisco and the fastest growing part of the East Bay want a south crossing. Then let the parallel bridge men swallow their wrath and remember that they ought to play the good neighber, not the dog in the manger.

NEW SCHOOL FOR NILES? — It all depends on local voters next Tuesday. Artists' sketch, above, shows proposed 13-roombuilding planned for site just east of Ellsworth Orchard. It will be started this fall if two-thirds of Tuesday's ballots favor (1) floating $150,000 in bonds and (2) accepting $615,000 in State aid. School will cost about $400,000, balance will be kept in reserve. It is designed to eliminate double sessions at present school, provide for children in tracts east of highway.
